Revealing Project X: Meet PanQuake

They tried to turn the launch event into a non-event - but the public wasn't fooled - surge of switched on internet users supports new technology product

Social media users avidly waited Saturday for the launch event of Talk Liberation's 'Project X', touted as bringing "Solutions and Innovations beyond your imagining..."

The launch was due to be streamed live on YouTube & other leading channels, such as The Jimmy Dore Show, and Graham Elwood's The Political Vigilante. However, despite a line up of global speakers & a top technical team on hand, somehow the YouTube streams continually hiccuped, forever buffering, nor was the stream able to be successfully broadcast to any of the other channels. Was this merely unfortunate, or was it something more calculated than misfortune for a new product competing with existing megalithic (if outdated) platforms?

This could have been a disaster for a new entrant, however audiences are increasingly sophisticated and quickly decided information was being withheld from them. Social media chats and the event hashtag #TalkLiberation were inundated with supportive messages and incredibly the new product site Panquake.com was flooded with donations to help get this new technology to the public sooner. Incredible because few product details have been released yet - not for lack of trying! The team behind PanQuake is so heartened and grateful to the huge trust and support expressed in the messages and in the donations.

Amazingly, members of the public began spontaneously setting the PanQuake logo image as their profile pictures and banners on social media. Other internet users began recreating the PanQuake logo with food products such as pancakes and "spuds and spinach".

Project co-founder Suzie Dawson said "It is so humbling to see such widespread interest in PanQuake and a constant stream of donations pouring in despite everything having initially gone haywire. I feel like we totally fell over and the internet is picking us up & dusting us off and saying 'don't worry, we've got you'".

Visitors to PanQuake.com are

- a) joining a community dedicated to the successful delivery of a product which will bring next generation solutions to a market that is hungry for change
- b) crowdfunding to contribute to the product development at <https://gogetfunding.com/panquake> and
- c) spreading the word that things can and will be different

With outdated, corrupt legacy platforms becoming obsolete, algorithm by algorithm, PanQuake offers a solution.
